

EGGS, EGGS AND MORE EGGS

Once upon a time there was a boy named Erik. He had a farm. He raised many animals but his favorite were his chickens. He always picked up the eggs they laid. One day when he went to the chicken hoop to collect the eggs he noticed that there were a lot of eggs. He didn't know what to do with them but he grabbed the eggs and put them in his basket. In his house he put them in an egg crate and he sold them to the stores from the town. Erik also saved a few eggs for him and his family. So the next day Erik's dad made eggs for breakfast and they ate them all.
