

ISCHIGUALASTO

Ischigualasto, also known as Valle de la Luna o Valley of the Moon, it's a national park located in San Juan Argentina.

There's 5 stations you can visit

- Painted valley: where you can see 3 different colors in the mountains, the landscape is beautiful

- Bocce court: they are made of iron, before you could touch them but they had to put a railing because people stole and broke them

- The submarine: it was sculpted by the wind and erosion, one of its towers collapsed

- Thw mushroom: it presents this shape as a result of the erosion, clay and sandyrooff

Another thing you can visit its the museum “Dr. William Sill”. It explains how paleontologists work and the materials they use. It is named after the famous northamerican paleontologist Wiliam Sill, who was a forefather of the investigation in Ischigualasto. He lived and started a family in San Juan.
