

Good morning dear students!

Today we are going to finish working on the following topic.

1-Choose one of the following questions to answer. Then, write a paragraph about it:

a.What was the last book you have read? What was it about? Do you like it? Why/why not? What would you change?

b.Which is your favourite book? What is it about? Who is the author of your book? Why this book is your favourite one?

c. Do you like art? Which one do you prefer street art or graffiti? Why? Mention an example and explain why it is your favourite street art/graffiti.

This activity must be handed in on 24/10,

Contact me if you have any doubt. SEE YOU!

A) The last book I read was The Little Prince by Antoine de Saint-Exupéry. The book is about a pilot flying through the desert, then he has an accident and meets a boy who comes from another planet, apparently a very small planet. Throughout their conversation, the boy, called "the little prince," tells her about his adventures and his visits to other planets, each with characters and profound lessons about life, love and friendship. I really liked this book because, although it seems like a children's story, it has very deep messages about the value of relationships and how adults often lose the ability to see what is essential. Maybe, I would change some parts to make them less sad, but I understand that those moments also make the story special and meaningful.

Santiago Rodriguez